tions passed submitted to Government for consideration they are treated like petitions. With a view to accord the benefits of a Representative Assembly, the Assembly may be arranged to be held once at Mysore and a second time at Bangalore, in all, twice in a year. The Representative Members would gladly attend the Assembly on these two occasions at their own expense having the best interests of the raiyats at heart.

Mr. Annaiya Pandit said that if it is not held at Mysore it may be held later on at Bangalore so that it may be held once at least every year.

Respects or "Maryades" in Palace on important State occasions.

Mr. Nadig Sivappa of Sorab

Summary of Representation.—Officers who are invited to the Palace on important occasions are allowed mileage for travelling and pay for halting, being treated as on duty They are also given khillats on more important occasions. The members and big land-holders who work for the good of the public at their own cost are treated with less courtesy. The non-official members in His Majesty's Territory are treated with more respect than official members. The framing of rules prescribing the procedure to be adopted with reference to Representative members and big land-holders on such State occasions is prayed for.
